Child Protection Policy

This Child Protection Policy is an extension of the aforementioned Privacy Policy. All topics discussed in the Privacy Policy apply to children under the age of 13 and all users, regardless of age.

LTS encourages parents/guardians to monitor and take a part in their children's online activities. It is important for parents/guardians to know that Stride Academy (www.stridelogin.com and www.stridestart.com) is compliant with COPPA (Children's Online Privacy Protection Act, www.coppa.org) standards.

COPPA requires that we (a) inform parents and guardians about how we collect, use and disclose personal information from children under the age of 13, (b) do not collect more information than is reasonably necessary for a child to participate in a given activity on this site and (c) provide the parent with the ability to review and delete the information collected about their child. With your children's protection in mind, we have developed Stride Academy to meet all these COPPA requirements.

All users, regardless of age, have the option to browse our website and view sample content without any personal information being collected. Your child's teacher or Stride Academy administrator may be asked to provide personal information about your child, such as their first and last name, ethnicity, special education status and free lunch status. Your child's teacher is not required to provide legal names to fill the first and last name fields. Additionally, the ethnicity, special education status and free lunch status fields are not required, but are strictly optional. We do not provide any personally identifying information from users under the age of 13 (or of any age) to any third party for any reason whatsoever.

All Stride Academy login codes distributed by LTS and used by students, teachers and administrators are created as an alphanumeric combination (ex., KCC1111) that does not contain any personally identifying information.

Parents and legal guardians may inquire as to personal information collected from their child under the age of 13 by emailing us at support@LTSed.com or writing to the mailing address at the bottom of this page. If there is indeed information in our files, parents and guardians may ask to have it deleted and ask to not allow further collection or use of the child's information.
